BOA Steakhouse

The Forum Shops at Caesars now has two new juicy restaurants for you to sample — Sushi Roku and BOA Steakhouse. The Las Vegas BOA steakhouse is renamed after its famed sister restaurant Balboa in Los Angeles.

This new Vegas hotspot features mouth-watering prime cuts of beef, topped off with various crusts including blue cheese, tri-peppercorn and mushroom pepper salt.

BOA's dining area offers soft lighting and a stainless steel décor that is both hip and relaxing. The restaurant also offers a private dining area for 30 people on two separate patios overlooking the Strip.

BOA's owners, Michael Cardenas, Lee Maen, Craig Katz and Phillip Cummins, are also the founders of the Innovative Dining Group. This group specializes in high-energy hospitality, cutting-edge cuisines and restaurant settings that offer a special flare.

The Innovative Dining Group also owns the new Sushi Roku that boasts a minimalist style, amazing fresh food and an A-list fan club including George Clooney, Britney Spears and Charlize Theron. To round out Sushi Roku's menu, the owners say the freshest sushi is flown in from all around the world on a daily basis. Some popular favorites are the yellowtail sashimi seared in sizzling oil with a splash of ponzu and diced chilies. The menu also features pan-fried spicy jumbo shrimp and potatoes and grilled lamb chops marinated in soy garlic sauce.

"We are excited to bring Sushi Roku and BOA to one of the most successful and dynamic fine dining cities in the country," says part-owner Lee Maen. "To be part of the Forum Shops expansion, in the heart of the famed Las Vegas Strip, makes this project very special to us."

Both restaurants offer fantastic views of the Strip and have seating outside so guests can dine under the stars. —KS
